Close Down Reflects In Coin Report

Reports from the two United States mints for the month of June reflected the annual holiday or vacation period given to government employees as the total number was only 83,214,702 pieces with a total value of $3,349,675.00 according to the Bureau of Mint report just released.

Again in June, as in May, there were no dimes made at either mint. Only the Denver mint made half dollars and nickels while only Philadelphia made quarters. Both mints made cents to keep up with the demand for this coin.

Total halves struck in June were 1,727,822 at Denver; quarters totaled 4,028,000 at Philadelphia; nickels totaled 17,604,380 pieces at Denver while the total cents made were 59,854,500.

Proof coins manufactured at Philadelphia totaled only 80,034. Orders for these were shut off many weeks ago.

A cumulative and complete month-by-month breakdown of the mint reports with totals for both 1960 and 1959 (for comparative purposes) will be found on page 20 of this issue of Coin World.

Youth Held To Grand Jury In Coin Theft

A 16-year-old youth, accused of stealing a $600 coin collection with another youth the same age, was held on a $500 bond for the Lexington, Ky., grand jury, waiving jurisdiction from the Juvenile Court recently.

The boy, James Marlow, 603 North Broadway, Lexington, waived jurisdiction while the other youth was committed to the Welfare Department.

The coins, belonging to Mrs. Clyde Honaker, 629 Shelby street, Lexington, were taken by the boys while the owner and her family were on vacation.

Cash value of the coins was listed at $175 by Mrs. Honaker.

Hawaiian Medal Sale Was Nice While It Lasted

Hawaiian collectors who listened to a morning disc jockey had a field day for a little while — they bought $4 bronze medallions struck in honor of the new state for $1!

There was a mistake in the ad copy sent to the Honolulu broadcaster, and he advertised them for $1. The store sold them for that price to the few customers who didn't hear a later correction broadcast.

Sterling silver statehood medallions, sold out on the mainland days ago, are already reselling at $60, according to one Hawaiian newspaper. Retail price was $30 plus tax, the publication pointed out.

Only 3,000 of the silver medallions were struck with 500 of them earmarked for the Islands. Exclusive wholesaler in Hawaii for all three types of medallions—bronze, silver and gold—was Edward D. Sultan Co.

The remainder of the Sultan shipment was committed to retailers before it arrived, according to the firm.

Only 100 gold medallions, which retail for $850 plus tax, were struck. Only 15 of them were retained in the Islands.

There are still plenty of the bronze medallions available in Hawaii, however, the Sultan firm pointed out. At $4 each!

Boston Convention To Be Biggest Ever, Officials Say

Boston will be the site of the biggest American Numismatic Assn. convention in history August 22-28 with attendance predicted at just under the 2,000 mark, James Clapp, general chairman, revealed as he checked the final planning stages with A.N.A. sergeant at arms Louis Werner.

Biggest event on the American Numismatic calendar, the convention bourse space has been sold out for months, Clapp said. One hundred and three bourse tables have been sold.

Every available hotel room in the Statler Hilton has been reserved by the convention headquarters for persons who wish to attend the convention.

Even the television studios of the New England city have been alerted and plan a special color broadcast on Thursday, August 25, over WBZ-TV, Channel 4.

This colorcast, entitled "Date-line Boston," will star Rear Ad-

The Medallist Art Co. of New York is striking the convention medal in gold, silver and bronze on order only. A set of the three in a plastic case is $50. Silver medals are $5. Requests for these medals are to be sent to Percy Rideout, chairman of the medal committee, at the Convention Headquarters address by August 1.

miral O. H. Dodson, USN (Ret.), president of the A.N.A.; Vernon Brown, curator of the organization, and Clapp. They will develop a discussion theme on New England money.

Collectors and dealers from Canada, Mexico, England and other overseas countries will give the conclave an international flavor. Over 100 cases and 200 frames against the wall of the display area will contain some of the best numismatic material in the world.

Response to the invitational exhibition feature of the convention has been splendid, officials announce with such outstanding collections as Cardinal Francis J. Spellman's papal coins scheduled to appear.

Final revision of the 1960 A.N.A. convention medal has been completed, according to Anthony Porcaro, assistant general chairman.

"A.N.A. officials are enthusiastic about this year's design—the work of our chairman, James Clapp," Porcaro said. "The reverse which bears a special design of the lamp of knowledge resting on the book may be adopted by A.N.A. for a medallion to be awarded as a prize in the future."

The obverse bears the pine tree, modified from the pine tree shilling, according to Porcaro, who pointed out that Clapp is especially gifted and equipped to do the design because of his profession as an architect.

A four-session auction will be conducted by Arthur Conn and Harold Whiteneck. An educational session conducted by leading numismatists under the direction of President Dodson and a series of social activities are being planned.

"The ladies will have everything their hearts desire in the way of entertainment—style shows, sight-seeing tours and other interesting activities," said Mabel Tuttle, who is heading this division of the convention—equipped with a $2,000 budget!

Prominent in the hospitality plans are the clubs of the Boston area who joined members of the Boston Numismatic Society in sparing no effort to make the 1960 convention outstanding in every way.

These clubs include the Collectors' Club of Boston, the Framington Coin Club, Worcester Numismatic Society, Tri-County Coin Club, Coin Club of Rhode Island, Hartford Numismatic Society, Essex County Coin Club and the New England Numismatic Association.

Registration cost is $12.50; this includes a banquet ticket and a bronze medal on ribbon. The A.N.A. 1960 Convention address is P. O. Box 889, Boston, 3, Mass.

The security room will open at 4 p.m. on Monday, August 22; registration begins at 1 p.m. on Tuesday.

The bourse, auction, exhibitions, business sessions and special events will continue all week to climax with a 6:30 p.m. banquet on Saturday, August 27. The security room will close at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. June Pond is secretary and publicity director of the convention; Louis Werner, sergeant at arms; W. J. Dodds, bourse; Earl Tuttle, registration; Edward Perkins, exhibits; Chandler Foster, hotel reservations; George Wardner, reception; John Frates, speakers; Malcolm O. E. Chell-Forst, booklet; Benjamin Lowenstam, protection.

Congressman Wanted Roosevelt On $3 Bill

Franklin D. Roosevelt would have appeared on a $3 bill had one congressman had his way in 1948.

Representative Klein, of New York introduced a bill in Congress to honor the late president by picturing Roosevelt on the bill. He said it would perpetuate the former President's name and signify his tenure of office: three terms plus three months of the fourth term.

No action was taken on the bill at the suggestion of the Treasury Department.

3 Cent Silver Coin Permitted, Discontinued

The three cent silver coin was authorized by the March 3, 1851 Act only to be discontinued in 1853. The three cent piece was originally set to be legal tender for payment of all sums of 30 cents and below.

Tokens Out

Thousands of special bronze 50 cent centennial tokens have been issued throughout South Dakota to commemorate the state's 100th birthday. They bear the official centennial seal, shown here, designed by Lowell Hanson, of Sioux Falls. It shows a covered wagon, oxen, two Indians, Mt. Rushmore, a jet plane, farms, fields, rivers and dams. A set of two coins cost $1. Requests should go to: Dakota Centennial Commission, Box 738, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

World Statistics Show 60 Billion Coins Made

Fifty-two mints made 60 billion coins for 116 countries in the last ten years.

That's the statistics to come from the first world coinage report published in Coin World.

This survey of the coin issuing countries covers the period 1949 through 1958—the latest year that complete figures are available.

All nations of the world are included except Russia and the satellite countries. These countries do not release their coinage production figures.

The United States produced more coins for her people than any other country in eight of the ten years surveyed. West Germany out produced the United States by seven million coins in 1950, and by 250 million coins in 1949.

The total number of pieces struck for the 116 countries during the ten year period is 59,720,031,259.

Compiled by the office of the Director of the United States Mint, the coinage totals of all nations are published in the Annual Reports.

The information comes directly from foreign governments by means of a questionnaire sent through the Department of State to United States foreign service officers in each country.

Many nations publish an annual report similar to that of the United States. They include information on coins and coinage statistics.

Our country's Annual Report is the only one that summarizes the coinage statistics of all other nations.

Twin Con Men Behind East Bank Swindle

An eight-year-old swindle that fooled countless Maryland spenders including the board of directors of the Farmers' and Millers' Bank of Hagerstown furnished today's collector-item "funny money."

Full story of the 125-year-old fraudulent currency came to light recently in a story related by John L. Miller, Hagerstown numismatist.

In 1835, private banks could issue money, called bank notes, on the basis of their deposits, Miller pointed out. But the Farmers and Millers' Bank circulated money without sufficient funds to back it up.

Thousands of dollars worth of money were printed, but the assets which were supposed to back the currency, ranged from $1,700 to $4.

An investigation was climaxed by the indictment of J. T. Guthrie, one of the founding agents, in 1843 for embezzling bank funds.

Under the law no notes could be issued until $75,000 in gold and silver was in possession of the bank as a part of its capital stock. This was never the case in the "funny money" swindle.

Mich. Digging Uncovers Real

Diggings at old Fort Michilmackinac in Mackinaw City, Mich., have yielded a piece of eight.

The Spanish coin, also known as a real, was uncovered at the site of the old fort in Northern Michigan. Finding the piece of eight was Dr. Moreau S. Maxwell, Michigan State University archaeologist.

Although scholars who are working on the restoration don't believe they will find a Spanish treasure, they hope the site is not disturbed by amateur diggers.

A Lansing historian, Birt Darling, speculated that the coin was carried there by Spanish prisoners taken in the British raid of 1870 against Fort Pentecost which is now St. Louis, Mo.

The excavation also uncovered portions of a wall. The coin was found where the Spanish church of the fort stood.

Denver Changes Meeting Places

Beginning with the September meeting, Denver (Colo.) Coin Club members will meet in new quarters.

The Olin Hotel, 1420 Logan street, Denver, will be the site of the 7:30 p. m. meetings on the second Wednesday of each month. The change in meeting places was necessitated by a growth in membership.

Schulman Reports

Europeans Plan 3 Fall Auctions

By Hans M. F. Schulman
My last column was from Paris and since then a quick visit was made to Amsterdam, Brussels and London and we are back in Paris to make an appraisal on a collection.

The most important numismatic news I picked up in Amsterdam and London is the announcement of three big auctions.

Cousin Jacques Schulman will have a magnificent gold sale in the late fall in Amsterdam. Catalogues are being prepared.

A sale exclusively of South American gold coins is scheduled at Glendinings in London for October 12th. This is a sale for the American collector who can fill up on many dates in his one, two, four and eight scudo series.

The collection, catalogued in London, originates from one of the most famous continental collectors. Because of the importance of the event, catalogues will be ready in July.

In September, another important gold sale will be held at Glendinings, containing gold coins of the world — 700 lots. In October, Adolph Hess in Lucerne will have an important gold sale.

Next year, Rome will be the center of numismatic interest during September. Three important numismatic conventions will be held one after another.

The professional numismatists (I.A.P.N.) will start the events, to be followed by the International Congress sponsored under auspices of the United Nations with lectures by world famous numismatists — and the convention of the medallic sculptors and medallists will close the largest numismatic event ever to be held.

The "FIDEM" as the medal group is called, will be presided over by 80-year-old and still very young, Romalig Nioli.

Your correspondent had a delightful visit with world famous sculptor Paul Vincze in his Chelsea studios in old London. Vincze is the high society medallist in

A sculpture of the interior of the oldest London synagogue, above, was done by Paul Vincze, the high society medallist in London. Vincze's works include medals for former President Harry S. Truman.

London and also made medals for President Truman.

He has also recently made some magnificent artistic sculptures representing the Old Testament like the "Adoration of the Golden Calf." He made a perfect sculpture of the interior of the old east London synagogue.

Paul gave me a photo of this to show to the readers of Coin World. Your correspondent is getting ready to go to Scandinavia and will report from those colder regions next week and will report on some coin subjects.

Santa Barbara's Plans Include Fall Coinarama

Santa Barbara (Calif.) Coin Club's August plans include being host for an all day coin convention, called Coinarama, at the Carrillo Hotel on the 7th.

Activities will include a coin auction, bourse and the usual atmosphere of a convention. For bourse space, Don Jurgensen, 15 Country Club drive, Santa Barbara, should be contacted.

General chairman of the event is Ray Bower, 260 South Lomita, Ojai, Calif., who should be contacted for information, brochures, hotel reservations, etc.

Club officials state, the Carrillo Hotel is centrally located and only a few blocks from the ocean and beaches.

One of the special prizes for the event will be a popular two and one-half inch silver medal from the current Medallic Art series.

Officials also said, those who wish to attend the banquet must make their reservation by August 4.

Old Fort Club Offers I.S.N.A. Wooden Nickels

The Old Fort Coin Club, Fort Wayne, Ind., announces a limited supply of wooden nickels issued for the Indiana State Numismatic Association Convention held there in May are available.

Anyone wishing to add this wooden nickel to their collection may obtain them for 10 cents each or three for 25 cents from W. E. Lassen, 5119 Ashland drive, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Lassen requests persons wanting the souvenirs include a stamped, self addressed envelope.

The unintentional omission of the "D" after the 1960 was an error on the part of this newspaper. Obviously, it was a ridiculous price for such a scarce item. We regret the confusion it has caused.

Speaker Urges Study Above Monetary Gains

"Numismatists should place study, sharing of knowledge, pride of ownership and the fellowship of others ahead of monetary gains!"

So urged William P. Donlon as he spoke at the Mohawk Valley Coin Club's first annual dinner at Hotel Hamilton, Utica, N. Y.

Donlon was discussing a quotation from an editorial by Glenn Smedley concerning rules for numismatists. He urged others to seek these rewards for the full satisfaction to be had in coin collecting.

Another highlight was the appearance of Harris Nathan, well known New York magician. Thirty-five special prizes were awarded.

Next meeting of the club is scheduled for September 27 at the Hotel Hamilton.

"Our club welcomes guests in the vicinity to come to our September meeting," invites Ralph Short of the Mohawk Valley club. "It also extends an invitation to any numismatist in the area to join us."

'What's My Coin' Quiz Entertains Delaware Club

"What's My Coin," an audience participation panel quiz show for members of the Delaware Valley Coin Club of New Jersey, was so successful there are plans to repeat it "with a wider range of coins or a less brilliant panel," according to Hance Jaquett, club president.

Among the entries submitted were a 1959-60 Lincoln; Washington-Lafayette dollar; $20 gold; $4 Stella trade dollar, shield nickel, half cent, Confederate cent and New Jersey cent.

The entry of T. J. Adams, an 1837 half dime, stuck the panel for the highest score, although it still only received 60 out of a possible 200.

Adams' clues were:
1. My series was minted from 1794 through 1873, except 1798, 99 and 1804 to 1829.

2. This year there were 2,255,000 minted.

3. This year my weight was reduced to 20c grains and fineness changed to 900.

4. This is the year that Liberty went on a sit-down strike.

5. It's a very cloudy night.

Members of the panel included Cole, Rowe, Smith, Burgdorf and "Whitey" Morris, a visitor from South Jersey Coin Club. Ben Porter was master of ceremonies.

Special prize winners were Harry R. Craig, 1960 proof set; William Snyder, mounted 1952 mint set; Dan Kehler, Capital plastic holder; Hance Jaquett, Seitz plastic holder; Bruce Monahan, Brown and Dunn grading book and package of cello envelopes.

June exhibitors included Frank Oertle, Dan Kehler, Glenn Warrington, William Wright, William Lange, Harmer Cole and William Snyder.

Coin Insurance Topic Discussed

"How to insure your coins" was the subject of Kenneth Davenport for the Osage Coin Club, recently.

Opinions were also voiced on the advantage of keeping an accurate inventory of collections.

Officers who were installed by Kenneth Davenport, chairman of the board of directors, are: Harry Miller, president; O. A. Farrell, first vice president; Irene Edmundson, second vice president; Dorothy Davenport, secretary-treasurer; Irene Miles and Gertrude Jackson, members of the board of directors.

ENTERED AT THE post office at Sidney, Ohio, as second class mail matter under act of March 3, 1879, as amended by the acts of June 11, 1934, and October 30, 1951.

My Answer To Halliday

Before I dig into this editorial, I want to say first I appreciate the letter Mr. Halliday sent to us and the thirty or forty readers that have written upholding or upbraiding Mr. Halliday. We thank all of you for your opinions. We would like to print all your letters in entirety. However, since some of you have expressed similar ideas, we will print only the best of each idea.

Dick Johnson

When our people considered starting a weekly newspaper for coin collectors they contacted several leaders in the field. Their consensus was: it can't be done, you'll never get enough editorial matter for a weekly. The U.S. Post Office requires a minimum of 25 per cent of editorial matter to maintain a second class mailing permit for newspapers. Without this second class permit you do not get the best post office handling and this coin newspaper could be delayed for many days.

The numismatic leaders were partly right. It is difficult to obtain a quantity of coin news, week in and week out. And no one foresaw the tremendous wave of advertising that has come our way which requires more and more coin news to meet the post office requirement.

So obtaining a quantity of news and editorial matter was a problem from the start. We chose to obtain the news from a very important segment of the coin field, one which would offer a constant supply of news. We chose coin clubs. They have come through magnificently and we owe a great debt of appreciation to them for this help. Their activities are news and we will carry it. We will not abandon them now, nor will we cut off their news in the future.

Reader Halliday is used to the comprehensive news coverage of his daily newspaper. Let reader Halliday examine his daily paper closely. He will find that only a small portion of it is written by its own staff. Sure, every paper has reporters, and sports writers, and all kinds of editors. But the portion they produce is small compared to the larger portion that is either nation-wide press service copy or syndicated features!

There is no syndicate for coin news! Neither is there an easy way to obtain it! It cannot be bought as daily or weekly papers subscribe for their news services.

Therefore we have to gather the news ourselves. This is no easy job — I'm sure even reader Halliday will agree — for a news staff of three people when the entire world is our beat. (Reader Halliday is welcome to pay our long distance telephone and telegram bills for even one week as we conduct our search for the latest coin news.)

The underlying thread of all the letters received in response to Halliday was: readers are starved for coin news. We recognize this. We will do our best — as much as 70 hours a week will allow — to meet the demands of our readers.

One important point, possibly overlooked in this discussion, is that all the editorial copy in Coin World is completely new and all original. When we receive news releases — which we welcome from anyone in the coin field — we rewrite these for more graphic reading.

To Halliday's point that "a few (people) corner the Philadelphia mint coinage and burglarize the rest of the country to the extent of $15.00 per roll for 1960 nickels" I can only say that he must think there are a lot of millionaires that can get hold of all the new coins. January coinage alone amounted to $1,859,950.

To his point that we need more coin columnists, I agree with him. More columns are in our planning. These will be incorporated in our weekly schedule as soon as possible. We swing wide the door for anyone who wishes to do a column. We welcome these, but have found too many cases in the past of people wanting to write columns it's just talk, and talk is cheap.

In answer to some of the Halliday inspired letters, let me answer one. One reader thinks I'm jealous because I don't have rolls and rolls of small date cents.

Sorry, I guess I'm cut of a different kind of cloth. If I am jealous of anyone, it's the handful of numismatists who have larger coin libraries than mine. As an editor, possession of great quantities of coins is not as important as possession of a great quantity of facts about coins. Maybe that's the way it should be.

One last point. We welcome criticism, but remember anyone can criticize. If you must criticize, do as one reader did. He disagreed with us completely, but with his critical letter, he sent in a couple of news stories about coins. I honor that man.

Letters To The Editor

Well, I guess it's about time to join up with Coin World, would have done it sooner but just kept putting it off. We are returning the advertising contract plus copy. Now all I'll have to do is wait for the mail man to bring us the orders. We wish you all the luck in the world.

D. L. Cooper

Will you tell those customers who ordered coins off my ad in the June 9th edition of Coin World that you made an error in the print and the fact that I had to return checks was your fault and not mine?

M. Simon
Bronx, N. Y.

We are having very good response to our ads in Coin World. Enclosed are five more ads.

Ray A. Brunelle
Plaistow, N. H.

I have really been enjoying Coin World as I believe it to be the best. I operate a coin and swap shop and want to try this fine paper with an ad after which I will be a regular advertiser of yours.

Joe Chapman
Mulberry, Fla.

I thought you would be interested in hearing the results of our display advertisement in the June 16th edition. The results are the worst we have ever seen or had from advertising in any publication for the merchandise and only two individuals requested our price list, advertised as free. Our last ad in "Popular Mechanics" appeared in the classified section, listed our price list and charging 5c for the list, brought nearly 1,000 requests. With the above in mind, we wonder if your advertised circulation number has been certified.

Our financial loss of our ad in your publication will be made up with next month's ad in another coin paper but the loss has shown us one thing—that "Coin World" will need more pulling power before we place another display advertisement. Perhaps your classified section can warrant our advertising. Enclosed is a dollar with a classified. We'll see.

Richard J. Reiersen,
Astoria, Oregon

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Mr. Reiersen is welcome to see every United States Post Office circulation statement which we have filed with the Sidney, Ohio, postmaster since April 21st, our starting date. We are sure that he knows Uncle Sam's forms are detailed and closely examined for any error.

(We moved this certified circulation figure to our front page the week we passed the 10,000 paid-in-advance mark and it has been getting bigger every week.

(However, since he raised the issue, we might ask Mr. Reiersen to query the other coin publications as to their certified postoffice circulation figures as well. We will be happy to print the results of his inquiry.)

Thank you for honoring me as a charter subscriber. I have read each copy completely and find it one of the finest in the coin news field. I have been collecting since 1939 and your paper covers all the angles and prices. Your paper fills a great need, both to all dealers and investors.

Pro, Anti Views On Halliday Letter Return

The initial response to the remarks of James P. Halliday Sr., of Los Angeles, Calif., about the "over-emphasis upon club news against general numismatic news articles," it appears that there are a lot of readers who are starved for numismatic news which they can get from nowhere else.

In our July 7th edition, we printed a recent letter from Mr. Halliday in which he called for more columnists and . . . agreed that if we must run coin club news . . . that we put it on a "society" page.

Howard E. Davis, of East Hartford, Conn., who is program director for the Hartford Numismatic Society, points out that the activities of other club meetings is most helpful to him as he is able to arrange better and more varied programs for his own organization as a result.

However, there are more pro-Halliday readers (those who wrote in, at least) than there are anti-Halliday readers to judge from the following excerpts:

Mrs. Charles Rooney, of Des Moines, Iowa, briefly says: "Amen to Mr. Halliday's letter. We also would be interested in more information on mint errors and how their value is determined."

The women are interested in coin collecting and would appreciate some help to judge from Mrs. Herman C. Kempf, of Barrington, R. I., who says:

"Although I am a relative newcomer to the numismatic world, I think your publication fills a much wanted need. Please consider the following suggestions constructively:

"1. More information for the beginner. Possibly a beginner's column giving grading information, care of coins, forming of clubs, etc. (Most of your items assume the professional or long time collector, I think).

"2. News of coins as it happens, i.e., Pictures of mint errors, etc.

"3. Only unusual club information that can be used to advantage by other clubs."

Mrs. Clyde B. Olson Sr. writes from Cooperstown, N. Y. to say: "I am thoroughly in agreement with Mr. Halliday's suggestion that Coin World contain more news on numismatic articles rather than on club doings. I, too, would like to know more about the 1960 small date penny. This would be good, solid, down-to-earth information which everyone is looking for. Also more department writers would add a lot.

"Personally I wish there was a column such as Jim Kelly's on 'Circulated Coins.' (Then I'd probably be up all night the day your paper comes, instead of just to the wee hours.) On the other hand — your paper is good."

Another feminine admirer of Mr. Halliday's views comes from Pennsauken, N. J., as Mrs. Edward H. Silvers joins in agreement and then poses a question of her own: "Do you have any suggestions as to how to further our topical collections? I collect animals, birds and fish on coins. I would be glad to give or exchange lists with anyone. Why can't we have a column on topicals each week?"

James J. McQuillan, of New York City, is happy that someone else feels the same way about coin clubs as he adds: "I think news of this kind is to say the least very uninteresting and the driest of reading. If there are any people who think you should publish news of this kind to any great extent I would suggest that you put all club news on one page and limit club news to just the amount that can be fitted to this one page per issue. I also agree with Mr. Halliday in saying that you are doing a fine job with the paper."

"We do think that Mr. Halliday has made a point," writes J. C. Schock, of Huntingdon, Pa. "The biggest piece of news in the trade today is of course the 1960 small date cents. So far you have devoted about three inches of one column to it. There must be literally thousands of your readers who still have no idea of what is meant by 'small date' and 'large date'."

"There may be thousands with one or the other in their possession without knowing which one, only because there has been so little factual information published by any coin periodical. We sincerely believe it is your function to publish facts as well as names. The old adage that names are news, may be true; but in a coin publication, coins are news."

The Pennsylvania businessman continues: "I would like to congratulate you for the very fact that you do carry many columns of news copy, probably more than all of the other leading coin publications put together. The fact that there is so much reading material in each issue is one of the definite attractions of your publication."

Mrs. Emily E. Wheat, of Morrisville, Pa., seems in agreement with Mr. Halliday and then adds a few pungent remarks of her own as follows: "You never saw coin news travel so fast as it does right around here. Just let one teller in a bank here hand his favorite depositor a good coin or a roll and every other coin collector is threatening to change banks if they don't get the same treatment! I think Dick Johnson sounds a little jealous. Bet he would like to have enough 1960 Philadelphia small date cents to make a log cabin! Just continue to give us the news while it is still news."

Now that we have decimated the coin club news, let us turn to some other comments in Mr. Hal-liday's letter and we will quote from a Texas attorney on this subject — Tom Street, of Waco, who picks up the Halliday comments on the "cornering of the market" and makes a few Texas-size statements of his own as follows:

"Mr. Halliday admits that 30 years ago he was attracted to coins because of the profit inducement. In other words, he like a lot of the rest of us bought them at face and made an honest dollar by selling them to some Joe at a higher price. Nothing wrong with that!

"Along come the 1960-P nickels and Mr. Halliday could have bought all he wanted at $2.40 a (Continued on page 6)

Listed here is probably the greatest variety of rolls you have seen offered for a long time. With the market as it is today, there will be even a greater time before anyone can make a similar offer. The rolls are priced to move (compare prices). We are listing quantities available of the uncirculated rolls. Circulated rolls are available in varying quantities with more coming in all the time (this has long been a specialty of ours.)

If you're wasting your time and money scrambling for "small dates" or "thin dates" or "stuffed dates" (I prefer the latter), check the mintage records on the coins before being offered here and consider how many are gone forever — not hoarded in somebody's vault. If I were an investor instead of a dealer, I would not make this offer but would stick to selling what is easily replaceable from my bank.

East Bay Schedules All-Junior Program

All-Junior Night is scheduled for the August 12 session of the East Bay Coin Club, Oakland, Calif., with a big red letter date falling on Sunday, October 16!

This is the date of the club's eighth annual Coinval, to be held at the Oakland Boys' Club, 920 24th street at Market, in Oakland.

A. W. Richie is chairman of this will join East Bay members as the auction. Deadline for submitting material is September 1. Plans are to have a single session of 125 lots with a minimum market value of not less than $5.

The Hayward Area Coin Club will join East Bay members as hosts for the California State Numismatic Assn. convention April 13-16 at Hotel Claremont, according to Don T. Thrall who will be general chairman.

"Coins of the Ancient Greeks" was the program theme for the July 8 session of the East Bay club, held at Bjornson Hall. Stanley S. Hawley, a club past president, took members on an interesting journey into ancient times and the beginning of coins. Slides added to the interest.

Gilbert D. Eaton, sunshine committee chairman, is retiring from active Boys' Club work in Oakland, effective August 2, and will go to New Hampshire to reside, according to Roy Hill, editor of the East Bay Coin Club's "The Circulated Proof."

roll early this year, but he didn't want somebody in Philadelphia to make 40c off of him. Seems to me it is worth 40c to have somebody go to the bank in Philadelphia, get him a roll of nickels and ship them to him in California—just like the complainant has been doing all along.

"But he says that a few in Philadelphia corner the coinage and charge the rest of the country to the extent of $15.00 per roll for 1960 nickels. He could have joined if he had just paid somebody a bonus of 40c. Fact is, he doesn't have to pay $15.00 a roll for them now. I paid 40c bonus on a few rolls early this year and I will sacrifice some at $14.98.

"And then he complains 'that something ought to be done' about the proof set situation which allows big dealers and syndicates to order at 10,000 a crack while the little collector gets shut out. The little collector had the same six months in which to order his little proof set and my guess is that the California gentleman, like a lot of the rest of us, figured that far too many were going to be made in 1960 and that we might see another 1957 situation.

"So, I only ordered a few and I guess our California friend did likewise. Now, he wishes he had ordered a 1,000 or so, so he could get in on the current high prices. The syndicates didn't cut him off—he just thought he was playing it wise and on this Monday morning he can well see where he should have placed his money on Saturday's football game! It just doesn't add up to me!

"I think you are doing a fine job on the paper and so far as I am concerned, you may put the society items wherever you like. I am not interested in them and can skip them without any trouble. I think our California friend had better stay with his coins and leave the publishing to someone that knows something about it."

D. C. Club Features Unusual Coin Program

An unusual program was featured at the July meeting of the Washington (D. C.) Numismatic Society in the Natural History Museum building of Smithsonian Institution.

The program was an audience participation type patterned after "The Price is Right," a television show. However questions pertained to numismatics and was titled "What's the Price."

Other activities included bourse, auction and displays. Special prizes were also awarded.

Federal Reserve Says
No New Coin Rulings

"The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has not issued any recent rulings concerning distribution of new coins to member banks," Kenneth A. Kenyon, assistant secretary, told Coin World today in an exclusive statement from Washington, D. C.

"The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, however, has a recently adopted policy whereby it has discontinued segregation of new and used coins in its coin wrapping operation and also discontinued payment of new loose coins when used loose coins are available," Kenyon clarified.

Kenyon's statement came in response to a series of inquiries about a recent Federal Reserve ruling concerning distribution of new coins to member banks.

Kenyon said orders from member banks for wrapped coin which represent 95 per cent of the coin payments of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland are filled without identification as to whether the coin is new or used.

"All orders for loose coin are filled with used coin whenever available," the secretary stressed. "All new coin from the Mint will be wrapped as soon as possible after receipt in order to avoid any delay in getting the new coin into circulation."

"The only significant change in policy is that wrapped coin will not bear identification distinguishing new from used coin," the Federal Reserve official said.

The Bureau of the Mint supplies new coin to the Federal Reserve Banks and branches in amounts designed to maintain stocks at levels adequate to meet the coin requirements of the commercial banking system.

The Reserve Banks pay out coin without regard to the year or place of mintage and without regard to whether the coin is new or circulated, according to Kenyon.

"They do not undertake to supply coin for special purposes, and this policy applied to dealers and collectors as well as member banks," the Board of Governors affirm.

It is not uncommon for some Reserve Banks to receive no shipments of new coins of one or more denominations from the Mint in a given year, Kenyon explained.

This is because the Bureau of the Mint follows the policy of not adding new coin to the stocks of coin at the Federal Reserve Banks when sufficient stocks of circulated coin are available to meet operating needs.

Show Plans Listed For Sept. Dates

Members of the Kanawha Valley (W. Va.) Coin Club's plans include a coin show and auction Sept. 24 and 25 in the Charleston Civic Center at Charleston, W. Va.

A three session auction is being planned with 150 lots for each period, making a total of 450 lots of items both desirable and popular with collectors.

Emphasis is being placed on key coins and rolls in the selection of auction material. John J. McConihay, 4113 Kirby street, S. Charleston 3, W. Va. should be contacted for auction lists for mail bids.

Bourse tables are available on a first come first serve basis at $15 for an eight foot table for two days. Club officials state, adequate lighting will be available for collectors to inspect coins before purchase and ample opportunity to secure items needed and wanted.

Awards will be given in all classes of exhibits and displays are invited. Numismatists who would like to enter displays should contact the club president, William A. Patrick, 969 Elliot street, St. Albans, W. Va., or Lester Bernstein, 4214 Washington avenue, Charleston 4, W. Va.

One of the highlights of the show will be a social period which is being planned for Sept. 24.

Hotels and motels are available for out of town visitors to the event.

Oshkosh, Wis. Club Planned

An organizational meeting of the planned Oshkosh Coin Club was held earlier this month in the community room of the First National Bank building, Oshkosh, Wis.

Twenty-five persons met to help form this club for the Winnebago-land. Marvin H. Shaffer presided as chairman and was delegated to hold this position until officers are elected. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. They will report at the Aug. 3 meeting.

Persons interested in becoming charter members of the new club should submit their request for membership before the Sept. 7 meeting. Meetings will be held the first and third Wednesday of the month.

Dap Or Ko?

Dap and ko are the two monetary systems of Rossel Island.

Dap money consists of single pieces of triangular shaped shells which are made from molluscs and then highly polished. However, ko money is represented by a string of ten uniformly shaped but perforated clam shells.

Ko money can not be used as individual shells and are only recognized in transactions when in strings of ten. The shells used as dap money, however, may be used both individually or together.

Counters Used As German Church Tokens

Brass or copper counters of seventeenth century Saxony and other parts of Germany were sold to worshippers who deposited the church tokens in the offertory. They were also called kirchenpfennige.

Difficult To Answer Questions On 'Futures'

By Jim Kelly
333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

We receive many questions by letters and phone calls and most of them are answered personally, while some that seem of general interest are referred to the Editor for possible articles on the subject. On the other hand we receive a number of questions that we don't answer, mainly due to the character of the question and the type of answer requested.

Jim Kelly

Here are a few examples of questions we do not answer: "Should I cash my savings bonds and buy coins?" — "Is it possible for several collectors or dealers to 'rig' the market on certain coins?" — "Do you think proof sets and rolls will continue to rise through 1961 and 1962?" — and the most numerous question, "Tell me confidentially, what do you consider the best investment at the present time?"

First, as a representative of Coin World, it would be against our policy, as well as theirs, to be responsible for the results such answers might bring. Frankly, I feel a collector should make the final decision when purchasing for investment. He must determine whether it is a good buy or if the seller just wants to move it.

Rolls and proof sets are definitely a good investment, at the proper price. And the "proper price" is something you and you alone should determine.

Some of the things to be considered are (1) Mint record for number struck; (2) Distribution. When there is considerable publicity about a short issue when first released, collectors generally obtain a large part of them; (3) Future increase or decrease in collecting; and (4) General economic condition. This is possibly the most important factor in a long-term holding.

So you see — it's easy! Pick a winner and buy them cheap!

A Word Or Two Of Explanation

Since we have many readers who are just starting to collect rolls, for their information we point out that a roll of cents contains 50 pieces with a face value of 50c; a roll of nickels contains 40 pieces with a face value of $2.00; a roll of dimes contains 50 pieces with a face value of $5.00; a roll of quarters contains 40 pieces with a face value of $10.00; a roll of halves contains 20 pieces with a face value of $10.00.

The condition for singles and rolls quoted is standard brilliant uncirculated. Mint sets are quoted in brilliant uncirculated condition, and contain the proper number of coins available from the indicated mint for that year. Proof sets are special condition (proof or mirror surface made only at the Philadelphia mint) and contain one coin of each denomination.

One of the Victory at Tabago Medals

Recovery of Cayenne Medal

Early Battles Shown By Means Of Medals

A thundering battle with exploding powder magazines, brave, stubborn commanders and maneuvering ships could only be recorded visually in one way in the early days of new world conquest—by means of a medal.

There were no cameras, no documentary films, no reporters on the scene, but there were wonderfully astute engravers who took the descriptions from the men who fought the battle and transferred them into works of art.

One of the outstanding examples of this recording of history is found on a medal struck in 1677 to celebrate the victory at Tabago by the French over the Dutch.

The work of Jean Mauger, it tells a story of the fort at Tabago and its staunch Commander Binkes. The French count, D'Estrees, ordered the Tabago fort to surrender, but Binkes was determined to hold it until the last!

D'Estrees opened fire, but he found the battle from on board the ships was too ineffective. So he erected a mortar battery on the shore.

The third bomb did it! It fell on the magazine of the Dutch, exploded, and buried in the debris the brave Binkes and nearly all his officers.

The French stormed the fort in the confusion, but the stubborn Dutch resisted so fiercely, in spite of their grave damage, the count was forced to give them surrender terms.

It is the French's strategic shot into the Dutch magazine that Mauger chose to immortalize on the medal.

The obverse carries the bust of the King, Louis XIV.

Tabagum expugnatum appears on the reverse with M. DC. LXXVII in exergue curving upwards (Tobago taken by assault, 1677.) The view of Tobago being attacked shows 11 vessels, and the magazine exploding by a bomb thrown from a mortar on the shore at the left.

Mauger used a different device for a medal commemorating the same event — he used "incensa Batavorum classe", (the fleet of the Dutch burned) on the reverse with a female figure of Victory alighting on a galley with a torch or thunderbolt in her right hand, and in her left a palm branch and a paddle at the left. Her face is turned to the left. In exergue is inscribed ad. ins. Tabago. M. DC. LXXVII (at the island of Tabago. 1677.)

during these colonization days, and it, too, was the subject of a French medal.

The French colonized it in 1664; the Dutch captured it in 1675. The French recovered it in 1676. Count D'Estrees of the Tabago fort fame, arrived with 800 men and took it during the night.

The obverse of the Cayenne medal bears the likeness of Louis XIV; the reverse shows Neptune rising from the sea driving four sea-horses. He is seated in a shell, holding aloft a trident in his right hand and in his left the banner of France. In the distance can be seen a castle on the shore.

The inscription in Latin reads "the Dutch slain, Cayenne recovered, 1676."

Medals Provide Both Knowledge And History

Medals are original documents in metal.

Medals are a body of history. Medals... a treasure, not of money, but of knowledge.

Authorities have written an endless series of descriptive phrases extolling the value of medals as they capture history in portraiture, dress, habits, architecture, geography, science and genealogy.

They may have been struck in cold metal, but they throb with the warmth of preservation and contribution to the knowledge of mankind.

Even the ruthless destroyers of civilization "discharged a debt to posterity after he has ruined or defaced a strong place, by delivering a model of it, as it stood whole and entire, so as in some measure to repair the mischiefs of his bombs and cannon." This statement is found in Addison's Dialogues on Medals.

In fact, it is said, it is safer to quote a medal than a historian!

The medalists, however, failed in their mission during the period of discovery of America.

There are none to be found exclaiming the deeds of Columbus or Vesputious or Cabot—even Cortez and Pizarro whose conquests sent fortunes from Mexico and Peru into the coffers of Spain were not honored in this fashion.

The first medallic allusion to America is believed to be among the titles of Philip II, of Spain, on the pieces struck to commemorate his accession, and the abdication of Charles V, his father, more than 60 years after the discovery of America.

This is the description:
Date, 1556. Obverse: Philippvs Hispaniar et novi orbis occidvi Rex (Philip, king of Spain and of the western world). Armored bust of the king to the left.

Reverse: Imp Caes Carolvs V Avg (Charles V, emperor, Caesar, Augustus). Laureated bust of the emperor to the right in armor. Silver cast. Size 22.

Sir Francis Drake's voyage was immortalized in a silver medal struck in intaglio to imitate engraving. Dated 1580, its description reads:

Obverse: D. F. Dra. Exitus Anno 1557. Id. Dec.—Reditus Anno 1580. 4. Cal. Oct. (The departure of Sir Francis Drake in the year 1577 on the ides of December (December 13); return in the year 1580 on the 4th before the calends of October (Sept. 28). The map of North and South America, the course of Drake, is indicated by a dotted line. The map contains the following names and legends:

America: meta incognita inuenta ab Anglis 1576 (unknown limits discovered by the English 1576); N. Franc.; Virginia, Florida, Nova Albion ab Anglis 1580 inuenta (New Albion discovered by the English 1580) Calofornia, Bacallao ab Aug. 1496; N. Hispania, Mexico, Cuba, Spaniola, Jamaica, Panama, Caribana, Lima, Perus, America, Brazilia, Chili, Patagonis.

Reverse: A map of the eastern hemisphere with the course of Darke indicated by a dotted line and the word Reditus; the Cape of Good Hope marked Bona Spes.

Fractional currency, issued in the United States from 1862-1876, ranged in values from three to 50 cents.

Lord Baltimore, noted for his democratic leadership, his tolerance and his wisdom, is a fitting subject for early coinage of Maryland. His portrait appears on this 1659 shilling in a profile bust. In the top photo an artist depicts the landing of Calvert to formally establish the colony.

Early Maryland Coinage Includes Groats, Pennies

Lord Baltimore, proprietor and governor of Maryland, has been known down through history as a wise and thoughtful leader—and he wasted little time arranging for coinage for his new enterprise.

The silver shillings and sixpences issued for the colony are rare; a silver groat and copper penny from the colony unique.

The settlement, predominately Catholic, guaranteed religious tolerance to all as early as 1649—
Lord Baltimore's tolerance stemmed from the days in England when the Catholics suffered much persecution.

First settlement was on St. Clements Island March 25, 1634, by Leonard Calvert, brother of Ce-cilius Calvert, who moved to St.
Marys on the mainland proper.
Here the colony was formally established.

It was named for Queen Henrietta Marie, wife of Charles I of England.

For almost a century, Maryland's early history was peaceful and happy, thanks to the astuteness of its founder, Lord Baltimore, in setting up regulations, and to his descendants who carried them out.

There were few Indian troubles, and its prosperity grew. The constitution issued under the terms of Lord Baltimore's patent was the most remarkable of any granted to an English colony — no settlers had ever received so many democratic privileges.

pears on the 1659 shilling on the obverse in a profile bust, facing the left, with the mint mark over his head. A cross pattee and the legend, "Caecilius, dns. Terrae Marae & Ct." also appear on the obverse. Arms of the Palatinate, surmounted by a crown with the Roman letters of value at the side, and the legend, "Crescite: et:
multiplicamini," are found on the reverse.

Midwest Association Hears Rev. McDonald

The Rev. Todd McDonald of Ottawa, Kan., was guest speaker for the recent meeting of the Midwest Numismatic Association at the Grandview (Mo.) Bank. A collection of coins was also shown by the Rev. Mr. Todd.

Youngstown Club Holds Annual Picnic

Members and friends of the Youngstown (Ohio) Numismatic Club held a family style picnic earlier this month at Stitts Pavilion and recreation area which included many types of summer fun.

Located in Mill Creek Park, the activity was under the chairmanship of Tom Williams, president of the Youngstown club.

Assisting Williams was Steve Colucci, Lou Colucci and Bill Hull on the refreshment committee, Jim Crawford and Jack Jones on the entertainment committee. George Smith selected the contest prizes and Bob Reed and Jackson B. Moody recorded the days events on color film.

Prizes for some of the events included a set of cut-out Mercury dime earrings for a women's activity and a set of cut-out Mercury dime cuff links and tie clasp for the "loudest shirt."

Entertainment was provided for all ages, children and adults alike. Films, in sound and color, were shown to complete the day's activities.

Club Sets Banquet Date

Red letter dates for members of the Collector's Club of West Bend, Wis., are announced in the current issue of its publication, "The Collector's Club Informer," edited and published by Erwin J. Franzel, of Slinger, Wis.

Hartford To Begin 27th Year

Gus Johnson Jr. is the new president of the Hartford (Conn.) Numismatic Society, and will officiate when the club resumes activities in September to officially begin its 27th year.

Other officers elected to serve with Johnson at the June session are:

Dwight B. Roy Jr., vice president; Mrs. Henry Schorer, treasurer; Mrs. Francis D'Esopo, secretary; Howard E. Davis, librarian and curator.

In surveying the success of the past year, the Hartford members—nearly 100 of them—recall the 25th anniversary celebration marked by a banquet and the distribution of the booklet, "Auctori Conec and Other Omissions."

This included articles about Connecticut numismatics with illustrations, written by several members of the club.

A bigger meeting place was necessary; the club now meets in the Masonic Hall, 11 S. Main St., West Hartford the third Wednesday of each month with the exception of July and August.

The Club Paper, "The Money Box," which began 10 years ago as a bulletin, and has thrived under the editorship of Howard E. Davis the past five years, has grown into publication of 1,081 pages the last year in 10 issues.

"For those who have moved and still maintain their membership, 'The Money Box' gives an account of what has transpired at our meetings," Editor Davis says. "For the new member we try to create a little background history of money, something that will be appealing to the beginner."

At a recent meeting members heard a report of National Coin Week participation which included displays, newspaper, radio and television coverage.

The books, "Alaska's Coinage Through the Years" by Maurice Gould and Ken Bressett, and "Patriotic Civil War Tokens," by George and Melvin Fuld were displayed by librarian Davis.

Utah Society Hears Coin Manufacture Discussion

A discussion of the manufacture of coins took place for the Utah Numismatic Society.

Robert Grube of the United States Secret Service told members of the organization how coins are made both legally and illegally.

He stated, the legal method of making coins as used by the U. S. Mint is long and involves many people. They range from the congressmen who approve the designs to the bank tellers who push the coins out to the public.

Anniversary Fete Slated

A three-day conference of numismatists will be held October 13-15 in honor of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Philadelphia Coin Club, George W. Magee Jr., publicity committee-man, announced today.

All activities will be held at the John Bartram Hotel in center-city Philadelphia, Magee said.

Program events include:

October 13, Thursday night, auction.

October 14, Friday, bourse and exhibits, evening auction.

October 15, Saturday, bourse and exhibits, banquet and celebration, 7:30 p.m.

Persons who are interested in exhibiting coins, in securing a bourse table or in participating in the auction are urged to contact conference officials without delay.

Officials include Saul Solomon, 5269 Magnolia Ave., Pennsauken, N. Y., exhibits; Alex Kaptick, P. O. Box 6612, Boulevard Sta., Philadelphia 49, bourse by invitation only; Fred R. Pisano, 4401 Cedar Ave., Drexel Hill, Pa., banquet.

Bernard Gimelson, Coins and Currency, Inc., 37 S. 18 St., Philadelphia, auction; John A. Tellefsen, 217 N. Marple Rd., Harverford, Pa., general chairman; George W. Magee Jr., publicity, 1304 Yarmouth Rd., Philadelphia 31.

There will be free admission to the auction, exhibits and bourse, Magee pointed out. Advance reservations are required for all other events.

In Sweden, numismatists call the reverse side of a medal or coin the "fransida." Its translation means the side away from the person.

of a coin in positive any size greater than nine inches in diameter which is reduced by means of a pantograph to coin size. The die is then reworked and hardened and other dies are made from it.

On the other hand, Grube said, the counterfeiter does not have great resources or good equipment for sinking dies and stamping coins but must use what he has. He must use an inferior metal because to use silver would take all the profit out of the enterprise.

Another method used by counterfeiters, he explained, is to make a mold in plaster and pour babbitt into the mold. Coins made in this manner and of this metal are rather easy to detect, according to Grube.

They are "slick" in appearance and there is an imperfection on the reeding where the stem was broken off. The coins may ring well if ground glass has been added, so "ring" is not a good test, he stated. However, they will look and feel phony to the expert.

The annual bourse night was held July 18.

In the early part of this century, tokens in the denominations of five, ten and twenty-five cents were issued by the Hoonah Packing Company. When this company terminated its business, all tokens that had been redeemed (and a number still to be issued) were destroyed by dumping them far out to sea.

cent presentation to Ray from President Eisenhower's press secretary, James Hagerty.

"My friend, the Honorable James Hagerty, presented me recently with a series of eight by 10-inch photographs of scenes in the life of President Eisenhower that I prize very highly," Ray said.

Every presidential campaign is represented in some way in the collection. His document, manuscript and autograph section is outstanding.

The collection requires over a hundred black walnut frames to mount the presidential material up to the 1952 campaign.

One of the most unusual items is the 1789 "dated eagle" first election inaugural button for President George Washington.

Only 36 of these buttons are known to exist. Thirty of them are in private collections including

Illinois Club Plans Picnic

Members of the Blackhawk Coin and Stamp Club of Byron, Ill., will have a picnic August 21 at the Blackhawk Grange Hall.

The sixth annual fete will be held in the hall, located one mile east of Mt. Morris on Highway 64 or four miles west of Oregon on 64.

No charge will be made for bourse tables but a donation of a coin, etc., will be appreciated, according to Walter K. Dillow, corresponding secretary of the club.

Information may be obtained from Dillow, Blackhawk Coin and Stamp Club, Box 182, Byron, Ill.

the Ray collection. Most of them have been retained in New England.

The Smithsonian Institution, Washington; the New York Historical Society, Lightner Museum, St. Augustine; Independence Hall, Philadelphia, and Waterbury Companies, Inc., Waterbury, Conn., each have one of the "dated eagles."

The Ray collection will be seen September 12 through September 24 at the City and County Savings Bank, 100 State street, Albany, N. Y.; October 3 through October 15 at the Rochester Savings Bank, 40 Franklin street, Rochester, N. Y., and from October 24 through November 11, 1960, at the Erie County Savings Bank, Shelton Square, Buffalo, N. Y.

Ray formerly lived in Belmont, N. Y., and moved to Mountour Falls, N. Y., after his retirement in April, 1958, where he opened a Museum of Political Americana.

Because of ill health and exhibit contracts during the current presidential campaigns, Ray has suspended operations at the Mountour Falls museum this year.

Coos County Club Elects

Newly elected president of the Coos County Coin Club of Coos Bay, Ore., is Merle Gertin.

Serving with Gertin, of Florence, is Ralph Crume, Coos Bay, vice president; Russell Stillman, Coos Bay, secretary - treasurer; and Larry Baker and Kenneth Warrick, Empire, members of the board of directors.

The Coos County club is unique among clubs for its membership includes not only people from Coos County but also from Southwestern Oregon and some from Central Oregon.

Membership of the organization now stands at 41 adults and six junior members. They meet in the Coos Bay Eagles' Hall on the second Sunday of each month, 2:30 p. m.

The annual picnic will be held Sept. 11 at Honeyman Park, Florence. The club announces that any coin collector in the area on that date is welcome to attend. Each family is requested to bring one hot dish and something else. Coffee, etc., will be furnished by the club. An auction will follow the picnic.

Vincennes Club Names Hamilton

John Hamilton was named president of the recently-organized Vincennes (Ind.) Numismatic Club earlier this month.

The club held its third meeting July 17 at the Army Recruiting office, 26 North Fourth street, Vincennes.

Also named to posts in the new group were Louis Mize, vice president; W. W. Daugherty, treasurer; and Doris Daugherty, secretary.

SUMMER SPECIALS

FOR NON-VACATIONING COLLECTORS

I am putting this ad in to make you people who wish you were on vacation, glad that you aren't. Of course that is only half the reason. I am not on vacation either and would like to sell some coins! So if you buy some coins, we'll both be happy.

I think you'll like these coins, but if by chance you get one you think I made a mistake on, send it back. I have made mistakes, will probably make more, but I'm making less which is my goal.

Camden, Ark., Man Receives Acclaim For Currency Motto

Matthew H. Rothert, of Camden, Ark., second vice president of the American Numismatic Assn., will go down in history!

The prime motive in getting the phrase, "In God We Trust," on United States currency, Rothert is receiving nationwide attention and recognition.

Rothert was the man of the hour at the recent Arkansas Numismatic Society convention.

Highlight of the opening ceremonies was the presentation of a plaque to the Arkansas State Historical Commission, showing one bill without a motto, and the other carrying the "In God We Trust" inscription.

Dr. J. R. Luten Jr. and C. G. Ball, prominent members of the Arkansas Numismatic Assn., made the presentation. C. G. Hall, secretary of the state of Arkansas, accepted it.

Rothert said the idea came to him in 1953 while attending a Chicago church one Sunday morning.

As the collection plate was being passed, it occurred to him that only the coins in the plate had the words, "In God We Trust," on them.

And it also occurred to him the United States was missing a bet because the motto wasn't included on the folding money!

He figured that since American paper money has a much wider circulation abroad than its coins, a message about the United States' faith in God could be easily carried throughout the world if it were on the currency.

Rothert, a man of action as his success as a Camden furniture manufacturer testifies, contacted Treasury Secretary George W. Humphrey.

Secretary Humphrey favored the auction and referred it to Congress for its official sanction.

In March, 1955, through Rothert's efforts, bills to this effect were introduced into the Senate by Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas and into the House of Representatives by Congressmen Bennett of Florida and Oren Harris of Arkansas.

Matthew H. Rothert, of Camden, Ark., originated the idea of including the words, "In God We Trust," on United States currency in 1953. The second vice president of the American Numismatic Assn. is a prominent Camden, Ark., furniture manufacturer.

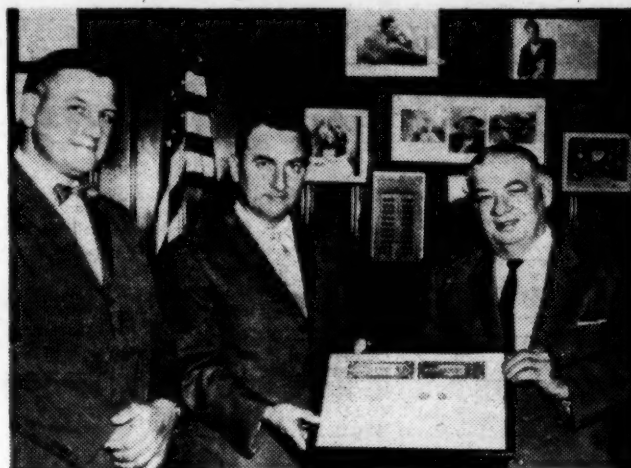

The bill which was approved by President Eisenhower on July 11, 1955, specified:

"... That at such time as new dies for the printing of currency are adopted... by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the dies shall bear... the inscription "In God We Trust," and thereafter this inscription shall appear on all United States currency and coins."

The new dies and machinery for the printing of paper money were not adopted until 1957. While the $1 certificates are the first notes officially to bear this inscription, it will appear eventually on all of the United States currency.

Rothert said the motto, "In God We Trust," has been on the U. S. coins since 1864, starting with the two cent piece which is no longer minted.

This came about when the Rev. Watkinson, deeply troubled at the omission of some recognition of the Almighty God on United States coinage, brought this Arkansas' State Historical Commission has preserved for posterity the achievement of one of its prominent numismatists—Matthew H. Rothert, of Camden, Ark., originator of the idea to include the words, "In God We Trust," on United States currency. At a recent Arkansas Numismatic Society meeting, Dr. J. R. Luten Jr. and C. G. Ball, of that organization, presented a plaque showing one bill without a motto and the other carrying "In God We Trust" to C. G. Hall, secretary of state. The three men are shown left to right in the above photo which features the plaque in the foreground.

fact to the attention of Salmon P. Chase, secretary of the treasury, under Abraham Lincoln.

"No nation can be strong except in the strength of God," Secretary

Chase wrote Mint Director James Pollock. Watkinson's letter was written in 1861; three years later the two cent pieces appeared with "In God We Trust."

Oregon Rare Coin Promotion Sells Groceries For Market

A rare coin promotion increased the sale of groceries 25 per cent at the Klamath Falls, Ore., Market Basket — and proved the big interest in coin collecting.

"We were surprised at the very general interest in old coins. There is a coin club in town, we knew, but whole families came to look at the coin displays. And, what was important to us — they stayed to buy groceries!" enthused Norman Duffy, co-owner of the supermarket.

A Medford coin collector suggested the scheme to Duffy. A portion of a newspaper ad announced old coins in good condition would be credited toward grocery orders.

Denominations of coins and years of minting were listed for the "wanted" coins—ranging from $14 for an 1877 Indian head cent to $35 for a $3 gold piece. Nearly 80 specific coins were mentioned.

The Medford collector displayed several frames of coins near the check-out stands and drew much interest.

"There seemed to be no adverse reaction in cases where customers brought in coins which were not wanted by the collector," Duffy said.

Club Hears F. Keith

"Coin Collecting" was the topic of Francis J. Keith recently as he spoke to the Lawrence (Ind.) Kiwanis Club.

generally bear the date of one year, and because of the vast quantity made are rather common.

Venezuela, Cuba, Ethiopia and the French Camerouns are generally the nations that practice this.

Conversely, some nations have a few coins struck each and every year making their coins scarcer. These countries include: Fiji, Jersey, Mauritius, and British Honduras.

Collectors can expect a low mintage for each of these countries if they continue with the same pattern in the future.

The per capita number of coins issued for this ten year period would be incorrect because of the lack of coinage figures from the U.S.S.R. and her satellites: Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Poland, East Germany, and Communist China.

Estimating that one billion coins are struck in this Russian sphere for these countries each year, the ten year total for all the world's coins would be close to 70 billion coins.

To find a per capita number of coins for these current years with the information of world population—2,852,000,000 in 1958—we find an estimated 23 coins for every man, woman and child in the world.

Virginia Club Plans Special Nov. Meeting

The 100th bi-monthly meeting of the Tidewater Coin Club, Norfolk, Va., is being planned by members for November.

A large affair is in the talking stage with more developments to follow, according to Bernard Drexler, head of publicity for the club.

Meetings are held at the Norfolk Motor Co. auditorium the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month. Due to an error, the meeting place was listed incorrectly in the July 14 issue.

The Tidewater Coin Club Numismatic Library announces that all auction lists, dealer publications and other numismatic literature should be addressed directly to the "Library," P. O. Box 825, Norfolk 1, Va. Donations of numismatic literature is being solicited from collectors, dealers and publishers for the library.

Collector Featured

Bennie Bee, coin collector from Denver, Colo., has received quite a bit of publicity recently. Several items from his life have appeared in the paper there.

Communion Tokens Once Required As Admission To The Lord's Table

The Presbyterian Communion token—once a requirement as an admission to the table of the Lord—was issued only to worthy members of the congregation and withheld from the unworthy!

Described as "once a visible symbol of what which, like a master-key, opened the gates of salvation to the faithful," the tokens range from the austere oval lead pieces of the early church to those of brass and white metal, struck with elaborate engravings of open Bibles, symbolisms of Communion and the words, "This do in remembrance of Me."

Old-time Communion was a far cry from today's shortened, streamlined version. The old-time worshipper did not study brevity—he insisted upon "good measure, pressed down and running over!"

Communion in the early days of the Presbyterian church began with a long penitential prayer and other protracted exercises of a day of humiliation and fasting—a day kept, if possible, with more than Sabbatical strictness.

Then came lengthy preparation services of Saturday followed by the plain, but strikingly impressive worship of the Sabbath itself.

The church by then had assumed an appearance of simple, yet awe-inspiring decoration. The front seats converted into tables, covered with spotless linen, looked

Interesting symbolism and intricate designs and mottoes—some of them virtually a sermon—are found on Communion tokens, once described as "master keys . . . to the gates of salvation."

as if they were made ready for saintly guests.

The service opened with the usual preliminaries, which ushered in the "action sermon," bristling with duties, sparkling with promises and fully setting forth the privileges to be enjoyed.

This was the introduction to the "fencing of the tables." All those who knew they were presumptuously living in open or secret sin were warned not to approach the sacred feast as they would "eat and drink judgment to themselves."

On the other hand, all who felt the "sweet pains of repentance," who were earnestly striking after newness of life and sincerity of obedience, were "lovingly invited" to sit down at the table of the Lord and partake of its spiritual bounties. There was a sermon again in the evening and on Monday a thanksgiving service of praise and preaching.

Where did the tokens come into this sacred picture?

When the worshippers were being dismissed on the fast day, the minister and elders stood in front of the pulpit. As the members filed past those who were in good standing and worthy to communicate were handed a small piece of metal known as a token.

On the Sabbath, when the elders passed along the Communion tables, they received, from each communicant the token which vouched for his being of the "household of faith" and gave him a right to sit with the people of God.

One church, the First Presbyterian church of Albany, issued pennies—the minutes of this group of worshippers, dated January 4, 1790, decreed that one thousand coppers be stamped "church penny" and be placed in the hands of the treasurer for the purpose of "exchanging with the members of the congregation at the rate of 12 for one shilling in order to add respect to the weekly collections."

This same church also issued paper money in 1792. There is no evidence that the Albany church pennies were ever used as communion tokens, however.

Seigniorage Describes Difference

Seigniorage is the term used to describe the difference between the face value and the cost of minting a coin.

A token coin is a coin with metal content less than the actual value.

A standard coin is one with the metal content the same value as the valuation stamped upon the coin.

The United States and most countries of the world issue token coins rather than standard coins.

Mrs. L. Kelly's Jackson Token Address Listed

Mrs. Lucy A. Kelly will speak for the July meeting of the Pittsburgh (Pa.) Numismatic Society. Originally scheduled to talk at the June meeting, Mrs. Kelly will discuss "Jackson Tokens."

August 13 has been announced by club officials as the day of the club's annual picnic at the farm of Mrs. Edna I. Hagy, Magee road, in Sewickly Hills township.

"Talk-Cents" will be the topic for the September meeting with discussion of large cents by John Speicher, Indian head cents by George Harner and Lincoln cents by Edward Stach.

Also scheduled on the future calendar of the society is the annual banquet at the Webster Hall Hotel, Dec. 11, when Harry C. Bartley will be guest speaker. Bartley is an ex-secretary of the group.

Hawaii Is Program Theme

Coins of Hawaii, native costumes and leis added to the Hawaiian theme of the San Diego Numismatic Society's June meeting.

With music of the Hawaiian Islands in the background, members gathered for a social hour followed by the regular meeting.

Discussing the history and coins of the Islands before and after they became a possession of the United States was Leroy Harvey. Exhibit awards were won by Larry Brandin, first; Paul Hamm, second; and Steven Simpkins received special notice as a junior exhibitor. Special prizes of the evening were won by Lillian V. Taylor and Elmer Tvedt.

Mrs. Mary Bowler received a Hawaiian medal for her costume and Dr. Bruce L. Wallace was presented a luau kit for his beach-comber attire.

Wheeling To Affiliate In Regional Club

The Wheeling Area Coin Club which draws its membership from that Ohio-West Virginia sector has joined the Penn-Ohio Coin Club.

This new regional affiliation will further add to the club's show privileges, its officials pointed out.

At a recent session Tom Williams, president of the Youngstown Numismatic Club, spoke to Wheeling members. He donated an uncirculated set of Lincoln cents for auction.

George Smith, treasurer of the Youngstown group, gave a history of that club's organization.

Members of the Wheeling unit were thanked by Ed Szpalski, Ohio Valley Coin Assn. convention chairman, for their help at the recent Steubenville convention.

Special prize winners were Ed Quire, Fred Harvey and Tom Williams.

Club meetings are held the fourth Sunday of each month at 2 p.m. at the Wheeling Y.M.C.A.

New Canadian Club Holds Second Meet

The second meeting of the Sarnia (Ontario, Canada) Coin Club was held recently at the home of Fred Osborne.

Walter Holmes of the London Coin Club spoke to the new group of formation of a club. Officers will be elected soon.

THE AMAZING truth about Canadian coins! Is it true that some Canadian coins of which only 500 exist have been bought by collectors from uninformed dealers for a song? Is it true that coins with a mintage of less than 100,000 may be still purchased for a few dollars? The answers to these questions have appeared in the "Canadian Bulletin." Sample copy free! Year $1.00. Marles & Co., Box 833-CW, Calgary, Canada.

... with a New Kind of
COIN ALBUM

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

Our albums and books are available at your local coin dealer, stamp dealer, book store, hobby shop or at department store coin counters.

Dealers are invited to send for our Wholesale Price List, using their business stationery and furnishing suitable credit references as to their commercial status.
